- Quarried in Greece

In operation since 1896, the Nestos quarry is nestled in the mountains of Greece. This sophisticated marble has subtle bands of beige and pearl, coming together to form a visually striking pattern.

A Welcome That Invites You To Touch

Quarried from a bedrock quarry in Carrara, Italy, Bianco Carrara raw finish marble instantly transports you around the world. Characterized by a primitive texture which is dramatically emphasized when light hits it properly, textured marble is a great option to take into consideration in your upcoming projects, such as this feature wall as you walk into 33 Congress Street in Boston Massachusetts.
